

When Lewy Body's Comes to Call

When Lewy Body's comes to call,
He doesn't knock your door,
He never asks politely,
If he can cross your floor,
He sneaks up right behind you,
As quiet as the night,
Then before you know it,
You are in a fight,
You're fighting for your life,
Everything you know,
From memories that's just happened,
To those of long ago,
It cover's you like a blanket,
From your toes up to your brain,
From the diagnosis day,
You are not the same,
But fight is what we do,
Our Strength so very pure,
We will keep on fighting,
Until they find a cure
